Built for Love Sharon Cummin

Heath was a gorgeous builder. He'd been passionate about building since he was a child. The home he lived in was built by his hands alone. He was awesome at what he did and was always able to keep his clients happy.

Tara was a writer and mother of two who had just moved her and her boys into what used to be their family's summer home. She hired Heath's company to make some changes and update her home.

Within hours of his first meeting with Tara, Heath knew in the back of his mind that he needed to turn down the job. The team that would be working on it had no other jobs scheduled for months, and he didn't want them to have to collect unemployment. He was sure he could use his charm and amazing personality to please Tara and turn her into a happy and satisfied client. He was more than willing to do whatever she wanted with the house. There was only one problem. Tara had no idea what that was, and Heath found himself getting more aggravated by the minute.

When Heath showed up at his friend Becky's baby shower, he couldn't believe his eyes when he saw Tara standing with his best friend Lisa.

He wasn't surprised when he received a text from Tara after the shower, but he was shocked when she said that she was letting his company go. Something didn't feel right about the situation, and Heath wasn't walking away that easily.

When he showed up at the house to find all of the work his team had done completely trashed, he was pissed beyond belief. No matter how many times she told him he needed to give up and move on, he wasn't willing to do it. She was friends with his best friend, and he was going to help her.

The more time they spent together, the more both of their lives changed.

When her house was finally finished and it was time to part ways, could they both walk away, or would the connection they built be more than either of them could live without?

"This is a super Amazing Series"

The story lines of this series are amazing. The characters are wonderful. This series is about a group of Billionaire playboy friends and the women who win their hearts.

Heath had thought he had found his true love in his best friend Lisa. But then she is rescued by Josh. And he wins her heart. Now it seems almost all his friends have found their true loves but him and another friend.

Tara is going through a messy divorce so she moves her self and her little sons into a house in the woods she had built. Now she wants it remodeled to make it knew for her and her son's. Heath owns a remodel contractors company. Tara contacts Heath to have work done on her house. Heath does not want to be drawn to Tara but he is. Tara just wants to live her life and raise her sons, but her ex. wants to make her life difficult. As Heath helps Tara the more he starts caring for her and her sons.

Oh this is such a sweet and touching Romance. This is my favorite of this series!. It will melt your heart!.

You must get this 5-star plus book!.

Another hot, sexy triumph for Sharon. Book 5 in a series of 6. Sharon's writing is brilliant and engrossing. It is difficult if not impossible to put one of her stories down before you finish it! Her combination of excellent story-telling with great erotic relationships is suburb! Her books are full length, but are easy reads. Each book in this series can be read as a standalone, But I highly recommend they be read in order. There is carryover from one book to the next. A number of life-changing events from previous books are concluded in this book.

Do you ever start a series by one of your favorite authors and think the next book cannot possibly be as good as the one you just read. Well, every time I read the first 4 books in the Bachelor Billionaire series, I was sure the next one could not be as good as the last one, but each time I have been wrong. What about book #6?

Heath is the last of the original four billionaire friends from book #1, 'Sea of Love', to still be single. All his other close friends (in their close knit group) are married and having babies. He always thought he would marry his best friend, Lisa, but when she married one of his closest friends, he is silently devastated and swears he never wants a wife or children. Heath is one of the really good guys. He is almost perfect in his treatment of all women. He is what every woman secretly wants--sexy, well-built and treats women with utmost respect. As an example, when they make love he goes slow and pleasures Tara beyond anything she could ever imagine before Heath. He makes sure Tara comes several time before they jointly come together!

Then he meets Tara and they both hate each other right away! A sure sign of how hot they will be later. He is to remodel her home but she is so indecisive, he almost quits. You soon realize that they both have serious issues. You empathize and get really angry at how Rick, Lisa's ex, has always and continues to treat Tara as she struggles to start her life and that of her two boys over in her old vacation home, despite her multi-millionaire narcissistic ex Rick who will not let her go. He is a really nasty SOB. Tara has no idea that Heath is a billionaire until well after they fall in love with each other.

And you can feel Heath's devastation at losing his dream of marrying his best friend. They are still best friends, but no one recognized his deep depression. He smiled and said all the right things. When Lisa discovers Heath has an interest in her friend Tara, she goes ballistic!

Sharon always has so many twists and turns, she keeps you wondering where the story will go next. Will Heath allow Lisa to ruin his one chance for true love? Will Heath continue his pursuit of Tara, telling Lisa to go to hell? Will Tara's ex, Rick, continue his campaign to ruin Tara's life and force her to run away and relocate? Or will Rick finally gets his comeuppance, and be put in his place? Will Heath and Tara survive all their obstacles and have one of the great loves stories of modern romance? Read the story to find out.

5 Stars

I was given this book for my honest review

This is the 5th book in the Bachelor Billionaire Series by this author.

Reese's peanut butter cups are an old beloved candy by most. The peanut butter center with the chocolate dream flavor on the outside leaves our pallets in awe. Though when making this treat it is at times hard to get the chocolate goodness to stick to the peanut butter. Tara and Heath's journey is just like making the delectable creation it takes just the right amount of kindness and love to stick to the center goodness.

Heath and Tara's journey is aggravating at times, funny in all the right places and downright laugh out funny also. You will so fall in love with Heath the man with the golden hands and Tara the princess with the two princes (her sons) but, she does not think that she is a princess but in Heath's eyes that may not be the case.

Please pick up this most awesome read today and find the sweetness and the love that billows from within the pages.

Happy Reading

For me, it was a struggle to finish; it sounded juvenile and silly in the writing and characters descriptions.

I have to be honest when I say that this series has been one of the best that I have read!

Sharon has a way to suck you into the story as if you know the characters, the story flows from beginning to end and always goes back to the main characters of the previous books in this series,. So much happens in this book that will make you want to keep reading!

I want a Heath!

I was given a copy of this book in exchange for an honest review.

This was another amazing installment of the Bachelor Billionaire Series by Sharon Cummin. This has to be her best by far!

In this story, Heath agrees to help a friend of a friend, Tara, remodel her house. A gentleman willing to help a damsel in distress, he can't quite figure her story out. However, when he does hear her story, his heart goes out to her and her boys. He does what he can for her and even goes beyond the call of duty. One thing he didn't count on was ever having feelings for her.

I have to say, this story got me. It wasn't an instant roll in the sheets - which was refreshing!! They got to know each other. Heath helped Tara out and got to know her boys. He wasn't after the one thing men tend to always go after. When they had their moments throughout the book, I literally felt it in my heart. Like I said, this one really got to me. Sharon Cummin really outdid herself on this one. An amazing read and a touching story!!

Rose Baker saysThe most awkward book I have ever read

Thank goodness this one was free. This has to be the most awkward book I have ever read. The writing was stilted and did not flow well, the characters were not well developed and the storyline was all over the place. The writing was also amateurish, it felt like a fifth grader was writing it. Not a fan and won't be reading more by this writer.

I love Tara from the start. She has a lot on her plate and although she is back and forth a lot she handles herself well. Heath I adore him. He is what every girl dreams of. He acts tough but I saw through this ruse he is nothing but a teddy bear. Him and Tara compliment each other so well. I loved their conversations and how they build up to the relationship. All in all a great story and another hit in this series. So glad to see Heath finally get what he deserves.
