When AJ's mom just got a job. AJ has to go to After School Kids Kare teacher Mr. Tony. Who ruins the kare with his craziness. Mr. Tony is filled with baloneys. The after school kare is the school program. When AJ and his classmates gang up together to the child room. Like this book it teaches me a lot about self display. In Mr. Tony is full of baloneys and AJ's mom teams up with other moms to make a sandwich party they but baloneys on the sandwiches and mayo etc.

Cecelia says

Mr. Tony is the after school program director. He wanted to be in the Big Book of World Records. He tried to build the biggest pizza in the world but if they donated three thousand pounds of food Mr. Klutz would jump out of an airplane and land on the school. By accident he landed on the pizza so they couldn't be in the Big Book of World Records. But it was on the News.

Loved it!

Shelli says

Surprised I didn't love this one like I have all the rest of this series. Felt like it was rushed. Usually I really like the quirky main character, but Mr. Tony just was not interesting. Dan Gutman slow down! Quality not quantity.

Gail says

They are at it again! More weirdness. Mr. Klutz parachutes in a gorilla suit into a giant pizza.

Luca says

That pizza was extra big, or extra of the extra big.

These are the kind of books that 2nd and 3rd graders devour. Lots of silly word plays and humor that adults might roll their eyes at but kids simply eat up. In this installment, AJ and his friends are enrolled in the afterschool program and Mr. Tony is the leader/teacher of the group. In his effort to quite smoking, Mr. Tony is looking for ways to keep busy and possibly make it into the Guinness Book of World Records. Of course hilarity ensues. Gutman also uses some great word plays which teachers can use with English Language Learners to talk about language. And there are references to current events. Great book especially for this type of series.

Thanks Mr. Schu for sending it to me.

The second and third graders at my school love these books. They like that they are funny and use words like "shut up" and "butt" as well as the exaggerated humor, some of which they don't always get. What I like about these books are the many idioms contained within each. It might be fun to make a class book about all the idioms and their meanings contained within each book...and you can also use this time, if you so choose, to address why using the words "shut up" and "butt" in school are frowned upon.

I thought that this book was going to be about Mr. Tony eating a lot of baloney, but to my surprise it was not that at all. Mr. Tony was AJ's and his friends ASKK which stand for After-School Kids Kare teacher. Mr. Tony was always doing weird things like pogo-juggling and egg-jogging to keep himself busy so that he could stop smoking and try to get into The Guinness Book of World Records. AJ and his friends didn't want to be in the ASKK program, until Mr. Tony showed them how to make pizza's which they had fun doing. Each day Mr. Tony would try to do something different with the students, but all they wanted to do was make and eat pizza. Once the student came up with the idea to try and get into the Guinness Book of World Record by making the biggest pizza, every body was excited even the students mother's helped. They all wanted to make Mr. Tony famous and help him to stop smoking. You know that it wasn't long before something went wrong. Mr Klutz had made a deal with the students to collect 3,000.00 pounds of food for the hungry, and if they did he would jump out of a plane in a ape suit and land on a red bull's eye on top of the school. But you know it did not go as planned, Mr. Klutz landed in the big pizza, and Mr. Tony had to jump in and save him. So they didn't get into the Guinness Book of World Records, but they all had fun trying anyway.

Dolly says

This is the second book we've read in the My Weird School Daze series by Dan Gutman and Jim Paillot.

They are very funny, quick reads and although they are told from a boy's perspective, I think they would appeal equally to boys and girls. We are reading the books completely out of order, but it doesn't seem to matter.

The dialogue is fresh and the story is easy to read aloud. I do not like the instances where the word "dumbhead" is used, but I either change the word or mention how that it is a mean thing to say. We will certainly look for more of these stories at our local library.

Sydney says

its about Mr.tony wants to break a Guinness Book of World Records by making the largest pizza but when their done and the lady from the book in charge of measuring is there Mr.Klutz in a ape suit ruins the pizza.so Mr.Tony couldn't be famous.
