Ikram Benmoussa says

The story of a man who found himself homeless even if his friends open up their doors for him, the story of a war in Lebanon who destroyed Lebanon in every part of it, the story of a woman who loved a man through a window but first of all the story of a writer who became a fugitive to run from their enemies because he writes reality and what can destroy a politics, I remember when a Moroccan wanted to travel to Turkey and live there, when they asked him why you want to leave Morocco he said, I'm not asking for a political asylum I'm asking for a human asylum.

The same story of Faydan who just ask for freedom, nothing more.
