NORTHERN MAGIC

Shannon Hayes is awed by the natural wonders of Alaska --- and pilot Cody Steele takes her breathe away. That reckless smile ... those bold eyes ... the man could melt a glacier. An old legend has it that the shimmering northern lights cast a special spell and Shannon believes it with all her heart when Cody takes her in his arms and shows her what love means. He's everything she wants for Christmas ... and forever.

BRIDE OF THE DELTA QUEEN

For Selena Merrick, taking a Christmas steamboat trip on the mighty Mississippi is like going back in time -- the Delta Queen is beautifully decorated in period style. And Chance Barkley, with the rakish charm of a riverboat gambler, fits right in. The man is mesmerizing. Must be the moonlight sparkling on the water or maybe it's the glow in his eyes --- but (mistletoe or not) Selena is ready to be kissed ...

Two sappy romance novels in one. With a handful of days left until Christmas, it was what my brain could handle. Everyone was loving and happy. No shopping and traffic and fog. What a relief.

Kayla says

I did not enjoy "Northern Magic" it was dull and easy to guess what would happen. "Bride of the Delta Queen" had some twists and interesting characters. However, I did not appreciate how the leading man kept trying to basically assault our heroine and eventually she falls for him? Seemed a little messed up to me but kept me reading I guess.

Ann Marie says

This was a fun book to read over Christmas because both short stories in this book had Christmas themes. Easy read. Easy characters. Fun girls fall for guys they never thought were their type. All this with just a little suspense. I'll keep my eye out for more of her books.

Christine says

It left me wanting more. They were both great short stories. The first a story of how you'll do anything to find love. The second a story of how true love never dies.

Lade Tawak says

I'm rating it three stars because I liked the first story a little. Absolutely disliked the second one.

My review from BookCrossing: My ankle started hurting yesterday, so I found a "comfort book", made some popcorn, put some ice on the ankle, and started reading this :)

It's 2 books in one, fairly clean, lite and enjoyable. In one, a woman travels to Alaska to marry the man she's engaged to but hasn't seen for 6 months, and in the other, the couple meets because the man believes the woman is a hooker. Classic romance novel fodder!

Mary says

Northern Magic - Shannon searches for fiancee RIck in Alaska and finds lovee; Bride of the Delta Queen - Selena goes to New Orleans alone for Xmas and takes riverboat cruise and finds love

Linda says

There were two short stories in this book and both of them were pretty enjoyable.
