Wowzer...this one was HOT! HOT! HOT!.

I normally like to read about menage stories that are part of a poly relationship instead of a third party being invited into an established relationship just to satisfy a craving for a threesome. While that's my normal preference I knew before starting Dirty Thirty, that wasn't the story line here, and that was perfectly okay. I liked the chemistry between the married couple, loved how the wife set up everything for her husband, and OMG, did I mention that this was HOT? While the story had a lot of potential to be more than a short novella, it worked just fine as a quick shot of sexy! Yep, blazing HOT! So glad I got around to read this one. If I ever see this one go on sale, I'm grabbing it for my collection =) While it's lending enabled and I was able to borrow, the regular price of close to $5 is a little steep for a story this length.

For a brief synopsis please read the blurb. I prefer to cut right to the chase of the matter. I absolutely loved Cara McKenna's Willing Victim. There was an interesting and intriguing plot and very sexy and hot main characters as well. However Dirty Thirty...hmmm...Evan and Margie rubbed me the wrong way. They're simply an absolute turn-off.

I had a few 'duh' or WTF moments:

[...]"Heya, sexy," she said and clapped him on his huge arm. The nickname didn't make Evan jealous – she called everybody that, even their neighbor's dog. Anyhow, in this case it was undeniably accurate.[...]

[...She smiled at him, admired him. So handsome in that way she liked best...A RECOVERING PUNK on the outside, responsible adult lurking on the inside, behind the studded belt and the thick silver hoops in his ears, the tattoos on his neck and arms.[...]

[...]Evan studied the still life, the chipped black polish on his own fingernails, his white hand on Paul's tan skin.[...]

[...]He (Evan) loved what was happening and he wanted her to share it, didn't mind if he was less exciting to her than the stranger in their bedroom.[...] ???

I don't like scrawny, 'recovering' punks with a mohawk haircut and chipped black polish on their fingernails. Frankly, I hope – correction I know it for sure - that my boyfriend doesn't call everybody 'heya sexy', and I'm glad I don't have to call him 'skunkie'.

The ménage scene was ok - nothing more and nothing less. Actually, I felt quite unaffected. Maybe I felt this way because I didn't like Evan and Margie. I wasn't invested in the story and the characters... well, I really couldn't care less.

Oh. My. Gawd. Hot. Hot. Hot.

That's it. That's my review! Read. This. Book.

Not, enough? Picky picky!

Dirty Thirty is the perfect hot, spicy quickie read any romance/erotica reader should have in their arsenal when they're feeling a book funk. It's that good!

Dirty Thirty, in a nutshell, is about a wife that gifts her husband one night with a man for his thirtieth birthday. He's showed interest in being taken by a man during their own sex life so she asked him. He (Evan) thought it over, and okayed the "date."

The scene is between a bouncer at their local bar they're familiar with, Paul. The wife is present during their scene and did I mention it was scorching?

I'm rather new the McKenna awesomeness but she hooked me with the Curio series. This was with MM, MFM and will top my "quick fix" shelf when I'm in a NA drama rut.

And I thank you!

4 wicked quickie stars

“You taste that?” Evan moaned his reply. “You know what that is? That’s the cock that’s gonna fuck your tight, virgin ass.”

Mmmmm... Dirty Thirty is a guilty pleasure of a read, highly erotic and utterly delicious. Evan is turning thirty and his wish is to have a man fuck him. Now Evan is a happily married man, he just has a fantasy that his wife is kind enough to make it a reality. Quick and wicked, perfect for when you need that something naughty to brighten and hadden your day ;)

What is a woman doing in a MMF one night stand, when it is obvious she is not really needed there?
And why this book is MMF and not MM?

These were the only thoughts that were crossing my mind while I was reading the book.

Margie wants to please her husband Evan. When Evan admits his darkest fantasy to her (which is to be taken and used by a man), she decides to help him live it.
Consequently, she arranges at Evan's 30th birthday a threesome with Paul. That's because after they become 30 years old, supposedly they have grown up and they need to be more focused and serious.
Well, Paul is the bouncer at the couple's favorite bar and apparently a bisexual man slut who has no problem helping Margie and Evan with their little fantasy.

So far so good.

The specific night comes and the three of them end up in bed.
Evan, although shy and inexperienced, seems to have a great time with Paul.

And then we learn that Paul has had the hots for Evan for a while. Clueless Margie has basically served Evan on the plate for Paul without realizing it.

Oblivious Margie is also having a great time with the two men. But seriously if she was just watching TV by the bed, nobody would bother her.

After a while I felt that she is just taking up space on the bed. There is really no need for her to be there, although she seems beyond doubt very excited and cheerful. She truly is so happy that her husband is handled by another droolworthy man.

Couldn't she just realize that she was not enough for her husband and that he needs more and not for just one time?

In the next morning, Evan is more or less saying things like "Hmm you know may we should call him again, if you want. I don't mind, if you want. But only if you want." and I can picture him thinking "Please say yes. Say yes. I want more of him. More. More."

And Margie is saying things like "Oh come on, you are thirty. You are a grown up now. You don't really crave other men. It was just a fantasy. Let's have coffee."

Eh... excuse me, what??? She has just helped him to realize what he had been missing all his life and that he without doubt likes men. And then she wants to take it away from him?

Well, it is obvious Evan wants more and Paul definitely plans for more.

I admit I have had a vision of Evan and Paul together riding off into the sunset holding hands in the very near future.

This is a shorty at like 55 pages in epub, so there's not much to review. It is, however, a wonderful little piece of erotica. It has great characters, hot, boundary-pushing sex and not a forced emotion in sight. It's a story about a sexually adventurous married couple trying something deliciously dirty. Everyone has a great time, but no one has their soul touched or comes to a life-altering romantic revelation. It's just - really - hot sex for an adorably out-there couple.

I liked seeing how excited Evan and Margie were to invite Paul into the bedroom. Like any good erotica, it wasn't about playing to my kinks so much as convincing me of the characters' enjoyment. Since we spend the bulk of the story in Evan's POV, we get to see just how much fun he's having. Regardless of my own views on what constitutes hot married sex, anxious enthusiasm on a level with what Evan shows throughout the story is just plain hot.

I highly recommend this to anyone looking for a good, short story of hot, adventurous married sex.

HOLY SHIT!!! THIS IS

I can only explain with gifs and some of this and tons of this

This is me after reading this

** On a side note here, this is more M/M action than M/F/M.

Margie decides for Evan's 30th birthday that she's going to invite another man into their bed BUT the man is there more for Evan and that's exactly how Margie arranges it.

This was pure hotness and nothing else ;p

So hot I could barely stand it.

What can I say? This book was my fantasy come to life. If you are looking for a grand romance, just pass this one right by. This is a M/M/F novella about a kinky threesome encounter. This is much more erotica than romance, and I loved it that way!

Just what this girl needed. Yum.

Story Rating 4 stars
Character Rating 4 stars
Romance Level 5 stars
Heat Level 5 stars
Overall rating 4.5 stars

OH MY! This was one scorching story. The only reason I rated this book 4.5 stars and not 5 is because frankly I did not want it to end and would have LOVED for the three of them to have one more go around in the morning.

I really felt the connection of the H&h as the third partner, another man joined in. Cara did a wonderful job on this story and the characters even with the short length of the book.

I sure plan on reading another of her book's very soon.

Warning the book is M/M/F with some really yummy M/M action. If you do not like that sort of thing then don't read this book.

P.S Karla if you read this book, make sure you have new batteries and the water is filled to the top of your Sea World misting fan.

Call 911, because I'm on FIRE!!! Wow...my eyes are burning, my head is ready to explode and my mouth is dry!

Was this a hot read? Absolutely!! The best part though, is the emotions that you could feel between the Margie, Evan and Paul. I don't care that Evan is not a hulking muscle man, Margie loves him, she thinks he's hot and so do I. Even Paul thought he was yummy, you could definitely tell that he was attracted to him. Physical attraction is nice, but an emotional connection is the sexiest, most passionate feeling in the world, Margie and Evan have that and more. Paul was great! Not only did he fulfill their fantasy, I believe he got his due too! The scene between Evan and Paul was extremely erotic and went on for pages, but it was never too much and I didn't get bored. Quick, sensual, erotic, with a sweet ending. It's not for everyone but I loved it!

Now where are those fire trucks?!?!

Michelle says

On the verge of turning thirty, Margie is about to give her husband Evan the best birthday present ever.

A little fantasy of Evan's comes to light after a night of drinking, this sets the plan in motion. Paul the bouncer at the bar is the perfect man for the job. This night is Evan's night. Whatever he wants he gets and he wants it bad. One night, one last hurrah before the big 3-0.

Although there is a wife in the mix, this certainly was not what you would expect with the dynamic of a typical m/m/f short story. Evan is living out his desires of being taken & used by a man. This was a hot as fuck short read that had enough story to get you into it and off the charts sex to get you off.

After all what is better than one cock? Two of course!

Long drawn out gratification and sexually descriptive scenes that just made you want to peel your panties off and get down to business. I am finding that the whole m/m genre is exactly what everyone said it was, FUCK HOT.

4.5 Fuck me sideways, I never thought this would happen stars!
I finally popped my M/m (and admittedly f) cherry! LOL

My first M/m sausage read! .. with the wife up for it too!

Honestly, if I'd read the blurb before grabbing this Cara McKenna I might have thought twice! But I'm on a mission to read everything that this brilliant author has written regardless, so thank you Cara for such a wonderful story to loose my M/m virginity to!

By the time I realized where this story was heading I was so blown away by the writing that I just thought it's now or never!!

IT. WAS. RIDICULOUSLY. HAWT!
OH MY GOD I WAS TRANSMITTED BY THE SAUSAGES!!

If Paul, Evan and Margie get together for another birthday - count me in without reserve.

Sausage IS the new black!

PAUL - "I'd say I'm about three quarters straight"

EVAN - "I think I'm like ninety-seven percent straight"

PAUL - "that's a mighty tight margin - gives me a bulls-eye's chance of blowing your mind and a whole lot of room to miss and completely traumatised you"

MARGIE - "I'm sure you've got a good aim"

(Yeah!! Good girl - what a woman! Lol)

An amazing ride. It completely opened my eyes to what friends have been telling me all along!

More, more, more please Cara!

I was torn between giving this book 3/4 stars!!

I will admit it was the extremely hot sex scenes which bumped it up a star! Shame on me I know!!

Things I liked (without spoilers)

* the way the author wrote the whole situation. She seemed to be sensitive to the fact some people may have issues reading about another person entering an existing married relationship! (even though I will admit I still wasn't 100% ok with it!!)

- * Paul was incredibly hot, and an alpha male without question
- * The m/m sex scene mmmmmmmmmmmmmmmmm!!! HOT

Things I didn't like so much (again without spoilers)

- * Margie! She was annoying and kept butting in when she really didn't have to!! If only it was a m/m/m book bwhahahahaha!
- * The ending was awkward in my opinion!

If you want a short hot read and don't mind m/m/f sex then this is the one for you! I hope you enjoy it as much as I did :)

Thank you sweet Vishous for buddy reading with me! I had a good laugh as always bwhahahahaha! mwah

Vishous says

buddy with my english rose ok I don't know should I give this 3 or 4 stars...

it was really good but in this short MMF I wanted really bad for F to be out of the picture! OUT!

I don't know why but she was really annoying to me and she didn't do anything bad.. I think the reason for it was that she was maybe too perfect, too open for the scenario and... ah I don't know...

I think Paul and Evan were perfect together, so every time she bugged in I wanted to tell her to mind her own business and leave the room...

because those two together were really hot!

I did find out that I will never read books with dominatrix, even though here wasn't the case of it, but when she spanked him was just... dunno... it really ruined the mood for me bwhaha obviously not my cuppa so obviously anything more I won't like bwhaha

I did think the ending would be different... it was just too... normal, like they did that millions of times together and that made it look a bit awkward...

so because I am a shallow woman and because I LOVED Paul <3 I will give this 4 stars in the end.
