Such a beautiful story with lovely characters... I really wanted them all to be happy. A heart warming and very raw story. Their love was tender and gentle and beautiful, just the way it's supposed to be. I'm really going to miss these lovable characters...

This review is for the Italian edition.

I totally loved this serie! The ending was great and even the short story (and extras) were cute.

Another predictable plot. Imho, utk plot yg simpel seperti ini, sbnrnya 1 buku (5-6 chapter) saja sudah cukup.... Tapi kalo dibikin sampe jadi 4 buku, jadinya bertele-tele bgt... Aku lmy n bosan wkt vol 1 dan 2 itu...ngomongnya liat bintang mlulu...secara aku bkn peminat astronomi, jadinya susah memahami apa yg dirasakan si heroine...

This was one of the coolest mangas i have read in awhile, it's unique and wonderful story with neat artwork. Loved the heroine's character,an optimist,easy going bright personality which makes you fall in love with her!

Overall it was a cute and soothing love story!:)

SOOOOOOO CUUUTE!!!! LOVED IT!! XD Cutest thing ever.

Rachel says

I really enjoyed the progression and development of the characters in the manga. Their personalities didn't change over night, it was a gradual kind of thing, which I really felt was genuine. This manga definitely reminds me of kiss/hug, both very good reads. :)

Me encanto este manga, especialmente la relación broXsis me tenia en ascuas saber la verdad acerca de su memoria perdida.

Estara says

Well... I did think the reason Hikaru lost her memory was much less traumatic than had been hinted at, but I thought it quite believable that her brother couldn't forgive himself in the person of Aso-kun for not being able to help her at the time, because they were almost the same age and he saw himself reflected in Aso-kun.

The one with the true trauma was Aso-kun so it was a nice twist that he found his first love again.

I really like that Kako Mitsuki draws in a style that is usually prevalent in smutty shoujo, but doesn't draw it ^^ I do think Kiss/Hug - which has been licensed (either in English or German, not so sure) has a stronger story-line compared with this.

The bonus stories (main storyline is finished halfway through the volume) were fun, especially the one with the supposedly illicit affair between librarian and high school student.

I was just in the mood for a Mitsuki romance again and the reread really emphasized the deep connection between heroine and hero again - and while his background is more dramatic on the surface, she has lots of drama in her past as well AND there is more time spent on her relationships which I love.

I also love, that - from what I have read of her series - there is never any question of the two people NOT loving each other. They may have misunderstandings and insecurity between themselves but NOT about potential other love interests (none of her series that I have read so far do). Here we have a brother with a sis-complex, but he actually had an understandable reason to develop it. Hikaru deals with it with a lot of patience, too ^^

Apart from the background story plot I do think that Shizuka is the one over-the-top character for the sake of complication. I guess they had to have one. Although Kiss & Hug and the other series I've read from her managed to do without an obvious antagonist character... I haven't read all her work yet, though.

The review is for the overall series:

Although the plot is a bit predictable there is still some nice twists and excitement. The art is amazing and the whole cast of characters are easily likeable and relatable. I found it hard to stop reading and had to finish the whole series in one sitting! Its not full of instant love which is nice coming from a manga. 10/10 Would recommend.

Alixendra says

For a short series, it was truly amazing! It was too cute and gave me a stupid grin on my face with how adorable Asou-kun was (though I wish he would've kept his hair bleached). Loved the focus on the fate of the two main characters, as well as the focus on the non-physical aspect of their relationship. One of the best, and perfect, shoujo mangas!
