ONE LOOK AND HE WAS HOOKED

A photograph. A feeling. A knowing. That's all it took for Dante "Zed" Zaragoza to realize his fate was intertwined with a woman he'd never met. Now it was up to him to find Marcia Price and bring her home safely. Thankfully for Marcia he's temporarily part of the Black Dawn SEAL team, who are on the hunt to locate eleven people whose yacht had gone missing in the South China Sea. A photograph means she's alive... for now.

SHE NEEDED A HERO

Marcia Price realized she was in the hands of a monster as she was dragged deeper and deeper into the jungle. She wanted to give up so many times but dammit, no matter what, she would survive this even if it almost killed her. And maybe, just maybe, the universe would send her a hero.

HE'LL MOVE HEAVEN & EARTH

Zed's blood turned to ice the moment he found out the history of the man who had Marcia in his grip. He wasn't just a sociopath, he'd been trained as a SEAL. And that was only the beginning. Zed would need more than his standard bag of tricks if he and Marcia were going to get out of there alive...

Donna says

Her Wicked Hero starts with a bang and goes from there to a rollercoaster ride of action, adventure and love. Marcia is smart and funny and stronger than she knows. She takes a licking and keeps on ticking. I would have been a blubbering pile of goo if I'd have gone through half of what this young woman did. This story was supposed to be about Navy SEAL Dante "Zed" Zaragoza but to me the real star was Marcia. The bad guy was a real shit and deserves everything he gets in the end. I really enjoyed this story. This is part of a series but read fine standalone.

Oh my! This story starts of with a bang and doesn't let up till the end. I was hooked from the first sentence "He's going into anaphylactic shock, I need the EpiPen," she screamed. And just keeps you on the edge of your seat throughout the whole story..

Marcia is an amazing woman with an incredible sense of loyalty and courage, but she also has a huge heart for all she loves. But when she falls into the clutches of a killer it up to Zed and his seal team to keep her safe.

Zed knows just from looking at a photo that Marcia is it for him and he will do everything in his power to keep her safe.

From the jungle of Borneo to the beach of San Diego, the baddies keep coming after Marcia and Zed, Hunter, Dex and the rest of black dawn keep foiling their attempts to capture Marcia. And through it all we get a beautiful love story that develops between Marcia and Zed.

But when the baddies finally get their hands on Marcia will Zed be able to rescue her in time.. This story is an absolute must read as is every story in this amazing series..

Definitely Worth Five ???'s!!

I'm not going to give away any spoilers because I'm not the type that does that!

So all I'm going to say about this book is that it's absolutely freaking amazing! I was sucked in before I had even finished the second paragraph but then again every book of Caitlyn O'Leary's has done that to me. She's awesome at creating her characters and weaving her stories to the point that they all seem so real which is why she's one of my favorite authors! So yes you got it, I most definitely recommend this book to anyone who's looking for a fantastic story to crawl into its pages and get lost in its reality!

Karen Roma says

Stories that tug at the heartstrings, convey heroism and vulnerability, and leave the reader with a feeling of coming home...this is what Caitlyn O'Leary continues to deliver. Every story holds a special message, but a man who says, "I saw your photo and recognized my soul mate", will always capture your heart.

Her Wicked Hero will enthrall and captivate readers with another tale of evil and danger and the men who choose to put everyone else's safety before their own. But it isn't just the rules of engagement that drive your decisions; sometimes you have to go with your gut instincts, and no one has better instincts than Dante 'Zed' Zaragoza. So when he looks at woman's image, and sees his future; nothing will stop him succeeding in his mission.

Marcia and Zed are extraordinary characters; each has pain and loss in their past, but neither has allowed this to dampened their spirits, or their zest for life. They each have a tendency to accept too much responsibility for that which is out of their control, but this only makes their connection stronger.

Zed is tough, courageous and in Marcia's words, a complete Neanderthal; but his caring nature, loyalty to his team, and dedication to the protection of the innocent, are what make him so extremely loveable. Marcia is a little bit motherly; she feels her life's purpose is to repay the kindness given to her as an orphaned child; but in doing so, she has limited her ability to find the happiness she so richly deserves.

Her Wicked Hero is just one more example of the passion, emotion and enthusiasm we have come to expect from any story written by Ms O'Leary; and as you turn the pages, you can't help but feel the genuine love she has for her exceptional characters. So as I read the last page, and shed a little tear, I knew I'd be anxiously awaiting the next story, even though I'm sure it will tug on my emotions, make me laugh and cry, and above all else wish I had my very own Neanderthal to keep me warm.

Elizabeth Neal says

Dante (Zed) knows, by just looking at a photograph, that he will be, needs to be, the one to find Marcia and bring her home. Zed is currently being borrowed by the Black Dawn SEAL team and they're investigating the disappearance of a yacht with eleven people on board. The picture of Marcia isn't much in the way of finding them, but it does mean she's currently alive.

Marcia may, literally, be in the hands of evil, but she refuses to give up, even though she may want to. Marcia intends to survive and is thankful for every way the universe tries to help her do that, including the man determined to be her hero.

However, what neither knew until it was almost too late was that the man holding Marcia isn't like everyone else but more like Zed, at least training wise. As Zed and Marcia work to ensure she's safe, neither are prepared for the intense chemistry between them, nor do they have the ability, or wish, to fight it.

What makes a man who'd once fought for his country become a monster? How do you win against someone that would be familiar with every tactic you'd think to try? One who has the same training you do? Can Zed protect the woman who is quickly becoming everything to him? What happens when Marcia makes it home? Is her time with Zed over or just beginning? Is a HEA possible?

Alpha males, danger and all the romance....

When I am looking for a military romance with loads of action, plus all the romance, I have to look no further than Caitlyn O'Leary. I'm pretty sure I've read everything she's written (if not I'm slipping!) so I was more than happy to jump into her latest release.

Marcia found herself in the middle of a life-threatening situation in the blink of an eye. She's as far from prepared as you could be but she still managed to maintain her cool and try to stay alive. Help would come.... Zed and his team weren't far behind and they brought with them all the confidence and strength (and firepower) needed. Their journey was an exciting ride that saw romance blossom under the most harrowing circumstances...

Insta-love mixed with bullets may seem like a strange combination but it certainly worked in Marcia and Zed's case. There was lump in your throat suspense as they went from one harrowing scene to the next, even as they were building something together. A host of supporting characters meant they weren't alone in a struggle that didn't let up the tension until the end...

Another great story, I can't wait for more.

With every book I read from Caitlyn O'Leary, I'm just amazed at how much better they get each time. This is gritty, intense and you won't want to put Zed and Marcia's story down. It starts out full throttle and doesn't slow down. Another great story.

This book starts off at a fast pace and does not stop until the final page has been turned. There is definitely something for everyone in this book. I was on the edge of my seat in anticipation and suspense. I look forward to reading what happens next.

I received a copy of this book from the author, my review has been voluntarily submitted.

Insta-love.

How they spent time and talked with each other was just glossed over by writing just one line and now she was "his woman". No idea how we reached that stage. Sigh.

The only good part were the action scenes.

Heather says

This is the fourth entry in the Black Dawn series but it can definitely be read as a stand alone novel. I started with this one and will be going back to read the others just because I liked the secondary characters that already got their books. Zed knew from the first time he saw a photo of Marcia/Lesley that she was the woman for him. Too bad she was deeply involved in a revenge plot with bad guys wanting her dead. Plenty of action, suspense and romance made this a great read.

books are love says

This was engaging and so romantic. I loved how Zed from a photo just fell for the girl. How he knew that she was going to change his life and for the better to.

Zed was the tough guy on the outside but total marshmallow on the inside for Marcia. His team was like family and they were so close and great together. We see him fight for Marcia's safety and still not treat her with kid gloves with the situation she was in. He saw that Marcia was one who gave herself to others in taking care of them and giving them unending love but never had someone really let her let go and take care of them and that is what Zed did. Was he perfect in doing this? No. He messed up sometimes and let his alpha side get the better of him a few times but it was with the right intentions. His love for Marcia was seen in everything he did. He was what she needed and she for him as well. She rounded his rough edges and gave him a place to feel grounded, love and able to let go.

Marcia was such a sweet character. She loved without pause and even when she was in danger she helped others. She didn't really think of herself often but did think of others and how to care for them and show them someone was there for them. This beautiful soul was damaged though for past relationships had her thinking less of herself. She felt that things ended in those relationships because of her and not the guy. Even if they were douchenozzles. So she didn't let men in easily. that is what made her rescue and subsequent story fun. She didn't let Zed in easily he had to earn her trust, respect, friendship and heart. When she did let him in and give into the attraction-wow. We got some smoking scenes but also some intimate moments where they opened themselves up and became vulnerable to one another. We also got to know the characters and what defined them and shaped them to who they were today.

The story was fast paced, filled with danger, adventure and intrigue. Seeing the events unfold so fast and watch the reactions was great. And seeing a love come out of it even better. Watching Zed be pulled in from a photo and fall head over heels the more he got to know Marcia and she him was endearing. Seeing them beat the danger that surrounded her and begin their life together will suck you in as will the guys he works with and the plot itself. I love how the story didn't just settle on the romance but on them becoming vulnerable with one another and learning to trust each other but also how Zed didn't treat Marcia with kid gloves but as a woman. As the smart, independent, caring woman she was. And Marcia didn't have her fears stop her from learning who Zed was and trusting him with her heart and love. A wonderfully intimate story that pulls you in from the moment Zed sees the photo of Marcia and keeps you there as we learn who these two are and watch Zed rescue Marcia in more ways than one and he her as they keep her safe and they fall in love.

Crystal Watson says

Sometimes you just need a Neanderthal to have your back.

This is one of the most heart wrenching books I have read. It's also full of bravery, determination, and love. Sometimes things don't turn out perfect in life. There are monsters who are very real and the real hero's who fight these monsters. Marcia has learned this lesson the hard way. She finds herself in the hands of a real life monster her only hope a man she doesn't know going off of a picture. Zed knew the moment he seen the picture that this woman was important to him. So he sets out to save this woman at all costs. When push comes to shove can he save the woman who he just knows is meant to be his everything? Can she hold on long enough for Zed to get to her? Y'all absolutely have to read this book. If you read just one book this week make it this one.

Victoria says

It's full of action, suspense and romance. It will suck you in from the beginning as it keeps you on the edge of your seat with its twists and turns. It's gripping and intense storyline. I loved the connection and chemistry between the characters. I enjoyed reading their journey as everything starts to unravel. Looking forward to reading more.

Debbie Watson says

Another amazing story in the Black Dawn series. A case of mistaken identity puts Marcia in the crosshairs of a former soldier and Dante (Zed) is determined to keep her safe. This book kept me on the edge of my seat waiting for what happened next! Definitely recommend it!
