Ferrari Testarossa is his 'lamp.' Finnegus Boggs has been a Somalian warrior, an Egyptian scribe, a Cambridge professor. In 2010, he's a doctor, and never in his over 5,000 yrs had he been forced from his home at gunpoint.

Billy and Tyron had been dealt a bad hand, and decided to take what they deserved then earning it. The store owner who shot the Black kid was sure he did the right thing.

Only a Marid Djinn genie has the choice to grant a wish. Will these two Oakland punks be awarded a chance at a different life?...

Neonator says

Excellent story, especially told in the street language the author used throughout. Great message for kids, but also for adults...that we control our lives with the choices we make.
