For the first time in twelve years, the Nutbrown Hares hop back for a brand-new GUESS HOW MUCH I LOVE YOU story. Happy spring!

Out in the fresh spring air, the two Nutbrown Hares see a tiny acorn growing. "Someday it will be a tree," says Big Nutbrown Hare. Then they spy a tadpole that will grow up to be a frog, a caterpillar that will turn into a butterfly, and a nest of eggs that will one day be birds. Suddenly Little Nutbrown Hare turns to Big Nutbrown Hare and laughs. "What does a little brown hare like me turn into?"

Melanie says

Darling bedtime story!

---

Grace says

A story book featuring Little & Big Brown Hare. The book features Little Brown Hare saying what he will do when he is big.

---

Katherine Cowley says

Same art concepts and characters as Guess How Much I Love You, with a nice lesson that we all grow and change, and that is a good thing.

---

Sharla says

Cute story about change for the Big and Little Nutbrown Hares.

Brenda says

1 of 4 in a little library of Big Nutbrown Hare/Little Nutbrown Hare books, this one of the 4 is about spring and what things turn into when they grow up.

Ashley Massa says

Picture Book 11

This story has sweet little rabbits in in that little children will be sure to love, as they tell the story of getting bigger and older. I liked how for the entirety of the story the little rabbit would ask a question and the big rabbit would reply with an answer, which is an easy layout for children to follow.

Skylar Burris says

From the author of "Guess How Much I Love You," this book too paints a tender moment between father and son hare. It's cute and my daughter enjoys reading it.

Shala Howell says

I don't like this book as much as the classic Guess How Much I Love You, but my 10 month old daughter absolutely loves it! She's a huge fan of Little and Big Nutbrown Hare, and begins to laugh and clap her hands with glee whenever I pick up this book (or the Colors one).
