Rabbit Readers - Kindy & Preschool Katrina Kahler

The Rabbit Readers Program teaches young children to read. This is the introductory book in the early readers series, perfect for a First Reader for Kindy and Preschool aged children.

The stories include: At the Zoo, I Can Count (Numbers to 10), Rocket Count Down, How Do You Feel and I Like. These contain simple words that are supported by pictures to give young children who are learning to read the confidence they need to predict words and to read by themselves.

For more advanced early readers Level 1, look at the Rabbit Readers Set 1 and Set 2 books. There is also a Sight Word book and ABC phonics sounds books in the series.

Nicole O'Connor says

A delightfully simple book for very young children.

I loved the cute, colourful illustrations. The text was clear and simple. This is not a storybook but rather an early reader. This little book offered a pleasing variety of topics; including counting one to ten and counting backwards, alphabet, names of animals and identifying facial expressions.

Great for kids learning to read

This was a good book. I used it to help my 4 year old to read. He really enjoyed going through the words!

Great for the beginning reader!

This book is great for the beginning reader. My five year old son and I read through this book several times the first evening. I like the fact that the words are with the pictures so the children can easily make a association with them. My son gives this book two thumbs up!

Michelle's Book says

I was given an ARC in exchange for my honest opinion. This book cover is on my Pinterest board and my blog, Michelle Dragalin's Journey.

Debbie PictureBookReviews says

This was a pretty good reader. Most kids will like one or more of the "stories" contained in this book.

Story one is a zoo story where the child reads animal names. The pictures are well chosen. The animals chose were mostly good. Sometimes it is hard to find an animal that starts with challenging letters like x and q. For some of the letters they had 2 animals and 2 pictures. Some of the animals are not ones that students would readily recognize, like the jabiru, but maybe you could use that to do further study of that animal for science class.

Story two is a little boring. Counting. There are two pages for each number: one with the number word and the number; the next with the number, the amount of dots for that number and a picture of a hand with the number of fingers being held up. It would be good for preschool, but to simplistic for the Kindergartners, I think.

The next story is Blast Off about a rocket taking off and is more boring than the counting story, but kids will probably like it because of the rocket.

Story 4 is about feelings and is very good. These will definitely be sight words for the children but it is well done and children need to talk about and understand their own feelings about different things. This could be a good jumping off point for more talks about our feelings.

Story 5 is "I Like" and is simple sentences with pictures that kids will like and should be easy for Kindergartners to read.

So, it's pretty good and I would use it with my children.

This book is a very simple book. It has five different story's in it. The first is "I can see" it goes through and shows pictures of animals that you can see. The animals are even in ABC order so i could use it to do ABC's as well. Story two is "i can count" this has the number in spelling, the number wrote. a dice with the number and fingers showing how many. Story three is "blast off" which is a count down from ten. story four is "How do you feel" which shows feelings n words and also a picture of what the feeling means. Lastly story five is "i like" whch just shows a bunch of pictures of things people like and the words to go with them.

Great for beginners

Very good book for kids my daughter is in kindergarten and this so
Help her with her sight words and counting

Ronni L Vernon says

Like it

My son is 6 and did great with this book I would recommend getting this book for kindergarten n even 1st readers beginning

Amanda Williams says

First rate

This book was absolutely first rate. It is simple and easy to follow. It has little stories that you can read to your child or with your child with beautiful and fun illustrations. Your little one's are going to love this book.

Mindy says

Very helpful

My Grandson is in kindergarten and has all the books they send home memorized. Some of the pictures in the 4th book could be better but overall very helpful.

Liani says

Good

I am older so it was boring but good for younger kids thank you for your support and have a nice day

Michael says

Great book

It's awesome, I loved the stories in it. Great for early or reluctant readers. Would give 6 stars if I could.

Brooke Segrest says

Good for beginners

Good for beginners to learn simple words and use their memory for the pictures to the words alone on separate page.

Tamara says

Perfect

This book is great for early readers both in easy words and pictures to help. Great reading experience for my five year old

Starlightuk says

Difficult first book.

Some of the words could be difficult for little ones just starting to learn to read. Such as giraffe and astronaut.
