It's Pumpkin Day, Mouse! Laura Joffe Numeroff , Felicia Bond (Illustrator)

Join Mouse from If You Give a Mouse a Cookie as he decorates all the pumpkins in the patch in this sweet board book from Laura Numeroff and Felicia Bond.

Mouse is excited for fall because that means it is time to decorate pumpkins! But one is missing. Where could it have gone?

This is the perfect Halloween book for the very youngest reader, and is just the right book to get kids and budding artists inspired to work on their own Halloween crafts.

Love it. Have the kids make the faces of the pumpkins, it's a ton of fun!

Melissa says

My niece loved this book. I had to read it to read several times. She could not get enough. :)

My son's favorite line is "Eek! What is that?" Cracks him up every time :)

Madison says

My son loves all this Laura Numeroff so we picked this up and gave it a quick read while at Target. The illustrations were cute and it taught basic emotions through painted pumpkin faces.

Ashley says

I like the opportunity for counting lessons in this book. Also I think it's great for learning facial expressions.

Ms. Jeane says

Interesting that they used Pumpkin Day rather than Halloween but still very cute and perfect to read to early ages.

This earns five stars from me because it is one of the few books my autistic son requests we read to him. It isn't the most exciting or fun children's book but he adores it. We've used it to help him learn about emotions and feelings. We incorporate the signs for each feeling (happy, sad, silly, surprised, and scared) while reading. He picked them up so quickly and uses them all the time. He is without a doubt pumpkin obsessed. We are both so excited fall is here (even if the weather here in Texas isn't exactly fall like) and that there are pumpkins everywhere we go. This is a cute read for this time of year. We will be making our own versions of Mouse's pumpkins using this super cute craft I found via Pinterest on the blog Cutting Tiny Bites to celebrate the fall season.

This has been a go-to for the almost 4 year old since last October and has recently become a go-to for the almost 2 year old. It's great for learning (amount my other things) numbers, counting, emotions, animals, and seasons.

Karen says

Arya loves this - especially when I say Boo!

Jennifer says

How many different faces could jack-o-lanterns have? A fun Halloween addition to the If You Give a Mouse series.

Andrei says

We love this book. It makes My son giggle. We read it over and over. ?

Margaret Chind says

Numeroff's "If You Give a..." books are very popular and we love a good board book. This one is special including opportunities for counting and learning facial expressions and emotions. This is a cute one to last the fall season (and has no mention of halloween or thanksgiving).
