Lilian Flesher says

Poems inspired by the author's recollection.

I am unsure what sort of recollections the author means, perhaps dreams he has had, as we hear of spider snake cats, and many other weird and wonderful beings.

I am not a poetry lover, but I bought four of the authors works, in order to get a feel for poetry and poetic verses.

I cannot truthfully say I understood it all, but it was a unique read, and some very powerful thoughts fire through your brain whilst reading these.

Adam Boustead says

This is a good colection of poems if I say so myself.

It is a colection of poems I have tyres to creat a mind palace but is misty.

I hope you will not find it to personal.

I have dun my best to stop that.

Given To Me For An Honest Review

This book is one of poetry. Adam does a very good job with his writings. Once you begin reading it you will not put it down. All of the poems are very good. It was hard for me to chose my favorites because I liked them all. The three that really stood out for me were: Biscuit & Honey, Autumn's Harbinger and World War II. This is a book worth more than 5 stars and I wish I could give it more. I highly recommend it to all. I look forward to many more books by Adam Boustead.

Christian Boustead says

Once again Adam a very interesting read. Once again Adam you show that you see the world differently. A unusual collection of conections. I particularly liked the poem about the snakes. keep it coming adam.
