4.I decided to give him the name of "Man of Friday", because I first saw him on a Friday.
His naming sense was terrible.

5.Robinson Crusoe was a English man, and he hated a quiet life, he wanted adventure, so he became a sailor. Then, while he went to Brazil, his ship was attacked by strong storm, and all sailor were dead except him. Fortunately, waves carried him to the island. Then, he started his new life in that island. It was hard, but he learnt a lot during spending time on the island, so he could made self-sufficient. However, he felt lonely, he wanted friend to talk with. One day, some wild men with their prisoner came to his island. Then, he helped that prisoner and get along with him. He named him "Friday". They became really good friends. One day, an English ship was came to his island, but the ship was invaded by pirates. Then, Robinson and Friday helped the ship from pirates, the captain of the ship let them escape from the island. Robinson had stayed in this island for 27 years! They could go back their home. I thought it is a typical survival adventure story. I like survival adventure story, when I was in elementary school, I read "Deux Ans de Vacances" and I really liked it. Even now, my feeling is not changed. I'm excited to adventure. This book let me notice it.

4. a: "This was a sudden and terrible change in my life."

b: I think very ordinary daily life is not interesting so I want a little surprise or happening in my life.
However, I do not want to terrible change like Robinson.

5. I agree Robinson's idea that want to change a life. His father wanted Robinson to be a sailor, but he was not interested in it. Then, he decided to go somewhere and journey. However, this story was a little boring for me because most of story was about how to live in the island such as cooking. I wanted to read more his adventures.

Este es el primer libro en inglés que me gusta. Un libro muy cortito, no muy complicado y muy fácil de leer. El vocabulario que utiliza este libro es sencillo. La historia es entretenida y la verdad es que no esperaba que fuera tan fácil de leer y que me fuera a gustar. Eso sí, algunas partes se me hicieron muy lentas, pero aún así lo recomiendo.

④"I want to be a sailor and go to sea"

This sentence appeared before the adventure. Robinson wanted to go the adventure, so I can feel the his enjoyable.

⑤At first, Robinson was excited to the adventure, so I also read with enjoyable, but after getting to the desert island, the situation began so dangerous, and he had the dangerous situation again and again, so it is fun to read the antecedent story. I was glad to read this book??

The first English book that I read was this book.

The book Robinson Crusoe is about a sailor. Fallen by a storm at sea on an unknown island. Where he learned about life. He could build huts and found his food. So polite he had many exciting adventures and he discovered many new things. Robinson was 27 years and 2 months to that someone found him.

I think the book was well written because the font is easily legible. There are nice. The story is good, adventurous. If you like adventure, history and a little bit of drama then this book is for you. The prints make for a nice change with the text. The negative part of the book was that I found it too thin. For me, the book can count 150 pages.

Why do I find the story "Robinson Crusoe" well? Because I love adventure novels. There is few repetition of words and that is fine to read. It was a thin booklet so it is advisable for people who don't like to read.

My decision for this book is a 4/5 because it is a very good adventure story. It is designed for people who don't like to read. It was too thin. It wasn't boring to read.

There was enough variety in. For adventure lovers, it is certainly good to read.

4. Can you imagine that you live alone in an island without people, food and house for over 20 years?

--- No, I extremely cannot live only by myself such a long time! I must feel lonely all the time and be tired to live.

5. This story is unbelievable one but also interesting, so I was very excited! The main character lived alone for over 20 years, but in the end he met a good friend, so I felt happy. He was great because he built some houses, grew up some foods, and never gave up to live. He was a brave man, so I really respect him. On the other hand, if there is no one in my family when I come back from a long journey, that is too sad and hard for me...

It is a story of a man who gets to a island alone by a shipwreck. he was a rich man before. there were lots of money and treasures on the beach. But he didn't need the money. This book is a great adventure story. the best part in the story for me is when they are trying to fight the bad mutinies. I really enjoyed reading this book.

Tony Wang says

Do you think a person can live at a small island by himself? Many people think it's almost possible to make it. But I have to say it's possible for a people named Robinson. This book include how he lives in this island. Want to know more? Start reading this book-Robinson Crusoe. The novel tells of a shipwreck survivor

Robinson in a remote and desolate tropical island - Trinidad spent 28 years on the island story, and its partners, is the hero rescued from the hands of a captive cannibals indigenous people. This novel is suspenseful, because the readers cannot imagine know what happen since Robinson landed on this island. The author setup-ed up many clues in this book, and make readers cannot predict what will happen next second. And I also think this is a dramatic novel, when you read this book, you must be attracted by great plots in the book. I think author described the everything that happened on Robinson concretely. It seems like we watch out Robinson nearby him. Furthermore, author also used foreshadowing in this book, he described some small things at the beginning of the book. Then we can found the related things happened in afterwards. "Friday" is an important person for Robinson. I think author should write more about "Friday". Of course, this book is compelling and page-turner. I guess the potential people might be the people who like living alone and like exploring. I think the people who like read travel journals might like this book. To sum up, this is an interesting book main about Robinson and his friend- "Friday" live at a small island. It worth to read for people like adventures.
