Thank you to the #KidLitExchange network for the review copy of Kid Legends. All opinions are my own.

Kid Legends tells the background story of many incredible people throughout history. This book in particular, is a sample of the other books in the series. It tells the childhood stories of people like J.K. Rowling, Gabby Douglas, Charles Schulz, Ulysses S. Grant, Jeff Kinney, Peyton Manning, Pablo Picasso, Muhammed Ali, and more.

I really enjoyed this sampler and I want to look into getting the other books in the series. I love that we get to get a look at these people's childhoods, which was where a lot of them truly got their start. Plus, there are illustrations!

I would recommend this to pretty much any age that can read it. It is probably best for about 3rd-5th grade. I plan on adopting it into my classroom library and possibly my curriculum in the future.

Kind of a teaser for their other books, this book has mini-biographies of people like Peyton Manning, Gabby Douglas, J.F.K., and Charles Shultz....

Quick stories about the problems faced by the famous when they were children that helped them get to where they are today. Relevant problems for kids to relate to and gain inspiration from.

I would like to read the other books now that I've read this teaser!

BTW...Peyton Manning - a tango dancer - YouTube it!
