The Light Within Rebecca L. Matthews

Love, betrayal, hope, and tragedy will unite this broken family. Judy has been a bitter, angry person for years. Her constant yelling has affected her children's attitudes and pushed her husband away. But all that changes one night, when she finds herself on a deserted road being touched by God. This moment begins a transformation that will affect everyone around her. Judy struggles at first to let go of her old ways, but as she learns to let go and allows God to guide her, she finds that life changes for the better. She becomes calm and peaceful as she places God first and foremost at the center of her life. Her children notice the change and how differently they are treated, and their attitudes begin to transform as well. But Judy's husband, Rich, continues keeping his distance. When he finally reveals why, the whole family is affected, and their marriage comes to an end. Judy tries to move on, and Rich does too, but both feel guilty for their part in the downfall of the marriage. Rich desires the peace that Judy has, but he can't seem to escape what he has done. Meanwhile, their daughter is dealing with her own new struggles at school, where conflict abounds. When a horrible accident occurs, everyone in the family will be put to the test. Experience the transformation with this family as they discover The Light Within and find peace in the midst of chaos.

Michelle Bolton says

The Light Within starts off with a look into Judy's life, her frustrations and her anger. She quickly turns to God for guidance and her own survival. She slowly changes her behavior and places God first in her life learning to communicate in a much calmer way with her children and her husband. I love that the author shows there is light in the darkness when you allow God into your life. I wish I had a better understanding of what led Judy to be so angry in the first place. Why did she push her husband away? I enjoyed this book and the message it provided.

I received the book for free through Goodreads First Reads and this is my honest review of The Light Within.

ARC! What a beautiful, uplifting story about GOD'S love and forgiveness in the midst of life's trials and tribulations. This story reveals the negative ways people react to abuse, strife, neglect and divorce and the huge cost many of our children pay. One thing that puzzled me was, what happened in Judy's life that caused her to lash out at her husband and children that way? I received this book, free, in a Goodread's First Read's Giveaway. Thank You!
