Conversations with the Universe: How the World Speaks to Us Simran Singh

Conversations with The Universe: How the World Speaks to Us reveals how repetitions, coincidence and synchronicity are part of a personal conversation from the Universe, intended to provide ease and guidance. We are not alone, nor have we been creating life experiences on our own. There is a co-creative Universal Intelligence who is very much involved and continually seeking a dialogue. The problem is not so much the life challenges, but our own individual lack of communication with our co-creator. A conversation is happening all of the time, but we must open our eyes and ears to it. When we do, an opportunity to reconnect with the lighter side of life ensues. We do not have to get wrapped up in the heaviness. Instead of becoming overwhelmed by the issues at hand, we can become aware of the answers and solutions constantly presenting themselves. The Universe wants us to be joyful, have fun, and let go. The synchronicities, symbols, and messages are always intended to guide us. They are there to make us smile, to stop to remember there is more to life than the current object of our perceptions. Instead of having to work things out, we can play them out, yielding more aligned outcomes and a greater experience. When we are able to remember the vast connection that exists, the illusions we live become more and more apparent. Greater awareness of the messages and engagement in the dialogue allows us to laugh with the heavens at ourselves at life and our seriousness.

Prepare-se para mudar de ideias sobre a natureza da realidade, é uma das mensagens de Simran Singh. Segundo a sua experiência, existe muitas formas de o Universo nos contactar com o intuito de nos alertar para determinadas situações que passamos. A música que ouvimos, os amigos que fazemos, os animais de estimação que atraímos para o nosso lar, os lugares e viagens por onde vamos, os sonhos que temos, os livros que nos chegam às mãos por vezes na altura ideal

«O leitor e todas as pessoas são páginas de um grande livro. Cada um é uma história individual de tragédia e triunfo, de amor e medo, de dor e prazer, de sucesso e falhanço, de carne e espírito. Cada um é uma história que tem de ser imaginada, escrita e lida, à qual tem de ser dada vida.» (p. 134)

Marty says

I had a really hard time wrapping my brain around this one. It wasn't the book itself, it was me not being open enough at this time to really get in to it.

Shera says

Deceptive. Not of God.

De Carter says

Great read

People on this path will get a lot out of it. Simian will get to think about what you place your time in.

Victoria says

I had already begun to notice that Universe/God was constantly sending me signs; affirmations that I was moving in the right direction. As a matter of fact, it was a "sign" that I learned about Simran Singh to begin with. I set an alarm on my clock for 11:11 daily (already a special time for me) in order to remember any special intentions. One day it went off while I was talking to someone, and she told me about Simran and her 11:11 magazine and talk show. I looked into that, and discovered she was about to write this book. Her book helped me significantly in opening myself to a much larger conversation. I can't recommend it highly enough.

Laura Ponticello says

Simran Singh, a global transformational speaker, author, publisher of the award-winning of 11:11 Magazine, and host of syndicated 11:11 talk radio. Illumination is the dominating theme in throughout this inspiration read. The reader is invited on a journey of self-discovery and to connect with the universal creation energy. In the spirit of Eckart Tolle, The Power of Now, Simran shares soulful wisdom lessons and knowledge that we can interpret, adapt or create in our own lives.

Sharise Cunningham says

Very interesting topic. Some of it resonated and had a few Aha! moments.

Laurie says

Here is an excerpt from my review: "The whole premise of Conversations with the Universe by Simran Singh is that the universe is talking to us - everything in the universe: animals, numbers, our houses, our cars. And if we just tune into these messages, we can lead healthier and happier lives."

Lisa Kelley says

This book will open your eyes to the clues, signs, and synchronicities in your life that you never noticed before. Excellent read by a great author

Susan says

She has some interesting insights and ways of saying things that were provocative.

Eva Gabriel says

Um mergulho interessante no modo como Simran Singh perspectiva o sentido da vida e na forma como interpreta e significa o fluxo de acontecimentos, pessoas, objetos e experiências que naturalmente sucedem no nosso dia a dia. Pessoalmente achei algumas partes repetitivas, e por isso a classificação de três estrelas. Para além disso, o sistema de conceber o sentido da vida não é original e pode ser encontrado mais aprofundadamente na trilogia "Conversas com Deus" de Neale Donald Walsch. Na minha ótica, o único reparo a fazer aqui, é que a autora deveria ter referenciado Walsch.

Apesar destes aspetos menos positivos, não deixa de ser uma obra com algum valor no campo do desenvolvimento espiritual. Fascinou-me particularmente o facto de elencar questões precisas que podem ajudar o leitor a abrir o seu próprio diálogo com o universo. Para mim, o aspeto mais positivo de todo o livro. A autora conseguiu ser clara e precisa.

Noutras partes da obra há um aflorar de temas que merecem um estudo mais rigoroso. Embora a sugestão bibliográfica no final nos sugira onde esse estudo pode ser continuado, após a leitura de "Conversas com o Universo" fica a sensação de que ficámos apenas pelo campo da intuição e que é necessário desenvolver mais pensamento acerca dos tópicos abordados para que efetivamente consigamos apreender a extensa panóplia de ideias apresentadas.
