Nicole Rogers says

As you all know we are huge Lizzy Ford fans and this book like all her others did not disappoint. You may ask why only 4.5 stars this go round, well simple it took me a few chapters before it all clicked. Now of course I have been in a reading funk so that could have played a part, but let me tell you once it clicks you will be sucked in.

We start out with Amira a young lady who happens to be deaf and has a huge secret that she has to keep safe. Her Guardian is doing everything and anything to protect her. Unfortunately a tragic event happens and Amira is forced to run and hide. Your heart will completely go out to Amira and her struggles. She is so smart, genuine and a heart big as the world. There are moments you just want to crawl into this book and give her a hug and tell all will be well.

We then met Nathan a Guardian who has a less than stellar record. Nate has some odd ball ways to get the job done and in his mind as long as he is doing his job that's all that matters. Nate will have you cracking up laughing with the way he handles situations. His first scene had me dying I could not believe what he was doing. Loved his character from beginning to end.

Next up is Kaylee, wow wee this poor girl is having all kinds of issues. She has a completely and utter moron/jerk for a boss. She ends up being stabbed while with her boss at a mental institute (you have to read to know what is really happening), she has Shadowman following her every step and oh yeah she has no clue to the supernatural world that is getting ready to suck her in. Even though things seem to be falling apart for her Kaylee holds her head up high and keeps moving. I totally admire this character.

Lastly there is Troy sigh, if you can't tell this is my favorite character lol. Troy has suffered a great loss and you will feel his pain and want to do exactly what Amira is trying to do, which is heal him. We don't get a lot of Troy but what you do get will have you waiting to hear more of his story.

I really did enjoy this book and can not wait for the second one to come. There is so much that can go on with this storyline that it is so exciting. On one more personal note my daughter Katelyn is deaf and was born with brain damage as a reader I notice a lot of authors never really touch on disabilities which in of itself is sad. However Lizzy did a fantastic job with writing a deaf character and the struggles they go through. Lizzy received a message from me when I was thanking her and telling her what a wonderful job she did.

Having recently discovered Lizzy Ford as an author and enjoyed other books of hers, I was excited to see Hear No in NetGalley and requested a copy.

The story is reasonably paced but I found my mind wandering a little. I really liked Nathan as a character and Kaycee was a lot like myself with the way she thinks and acts(In some situations!!).

The problem I had with this book was the subject matter I think. Having gotten back into 'paranormal romance' again recently after a huge break I enjoyed the aspects of the Shadowman and his part in the story.

It was the angels that just didn't gel with me at all. For this reason I gave the book 3 stars as the story is good, its intriguing and I feel all Lizzy Ford fans will appreciate this new serious. I could not let me personal feelings of being 'anti angels' at present, dictate this was a poor book - as its not.

That and Nathan is HOT!

So, I gave Hear no 3 stars. At a later date I may return to re read this book. I have done this before with other series and then changed my review - this may well be the case with this book.

REVIEW

This is my 2nd book I have ever read from this Author and let me say this book just blew me away. I am a HUGE fan of fallen angels/ angels those sort of paranormal just rock my world and Lizzy Ford definitely rocks it with this book . In this book have several different Angel Species, Demons, Spirit Guides and Guardians and oh yeah Humans. Everything takes place in the Washington DC, Northern Virginia area which I also loved considering I live in Northern Virginia ? The book keeps you reading its packed full of Action, with twists and turns.

We have first up in the story Amira who is a first gen and she is also deaf she is on the run from HELL itself and her guardian Scott is doing all he can to protect her but he is killed in action and before he is he tells Amira where to go for help and to run and not look back she must keep the stones safe.

Next we have a human or is she? Named Kaylee who lives in a small apartment in Reston, Virginia and comes from money. She also is seeing someone / something she has named Shadowman she doesn't understand what is happening or why.

Enter Nathan who is a 3000 year old spirit guide who doesn't always if ever follow the rules. Nate has been called in to help find Amira and keep her safe and in the meantime he runs into Kaylee who is at the Mental Hospital where Amira was hiding out at. Next he is also trying to save Kaylee who he learns must be killed in order to stop Shadowman from entering the portal and causing an apocalypse . Nate knows there is something going on between Kaylee and himself as when he has touched her things feel different. It is Amira who has figured out and keeps to herself that Kaylee is Nate's OTL –One True Love. Nate has to keep Amira away from Kaylee because for some strange reason she keeps trying to kill Kaylee . He takes her to stay at one of his best friends homes Troy . Troy keeps trying to kill himself but it doesn't happen .

Well in closing. We have Nate and Kaylee who should be together forever but will they? Can Kaylee ever trust Nate? Then we have happenings between Amira and Troy will Troy figure out that Amira is his One True Love? Pickup the next book coming out in 2/2014 and find out !!!

I've been trying to write this review for a few days now and each time I write it, it's riddled with spoilers. Since I do not want to give anything away, because this really is a book you need to read and experience for yourself, I'm scratching the other tries.

So ... what can I say about Hear No that is not a spoiler? Well, it was definitely another hit by Lizzy Ford. Angels, demons, guardians, humans. What I really loved about this book was the characters. There were a ton of them, and they all fit together perfectly. Loved Nathan and Kaylee. Loved Amira and Troy. Honestly, I loved them all.

The storyline moved at a great pace, without a single dull moment. But then, if you've already read some of Lizzy's books, you know that her pacing is always awesome. She has a way of telling stories that keeps you on the edge of your seat and makes you not want to put the book down, even when it ends.

To sum it up ... THIS BOOK ROCKS and I cannot wait for the next one in this series.

I wasn't really sure what to expect but I actually really enjoyed this book. Very original and it was a breath of fresh air compared to what I've been reading lately. Can't wait to read the next one!

Another great idea from Lizzy Ford. This one features angels and demons and the potential destruction of the world. Like the other Ford books I have read there is an alpha guy who is a bit of an ass and in this one his name is Nathan. He is a spirit guide who job is to look after angels who have taken human bodies. He is the best at what he does and at 3000 years old he has lots of time to learn. He is also a hit with the ladies but hasn't committed to anyone since his wife died all those years ago and the most importantly he is a hot former roman soldier :). Kaylee has the unfortunate task of being tied to a Shadowman that will take the form of death and destroy the earth if he can get a human form and Nathan's job is to find and kill her.

That is a basic premise but of course there is lots of drama, sexual tension, lust, betrayal and funny moments too. There are some great scenes and lines, here are some of my favs:

“You’re asking if you can murder me?” Kaylee wasn’t certain she heard him right.

“How long is temporary?” she asked, wracking her brain to try to make sense of his surreal request.

“Five minutes. Maybe ten. It shouldn’t be painful,” he replied smoothly.

“Shouldn’t be,” she repeated. “I think I’m going to have to decline. Respectfully, of course.”

Second, it’s not being an asshole that makes women fall at your feet. It’s your twelve inch dick! That’s all you have going for you, Nathan, because your people skills suck!”

“Ten and a half, but thanks for the boost.”

Underneath the drama there is also a blossoming romance between two couple however it is left pretty much open for Nathan and Kaylee after he does something awful and will probably have to do more before they can be together.

This is part of a series so don't expect a resolve in this book. I will definitely read the rest in the series to find out what is going to happen and hope Nathan can redeem himself.

My review~~

I bought this book on amazon.

Wow I really don't know where to start this review at...hmm... I'm just stunned on how this author left this book at such a cliffhanger..WOW WEEEE!! What a ending!? It leaves the question how well do we know Eddy? This author knows how to keep you on the edge of your seat and can captivate the reader to the very end and leave you saying what?? That's the end? I have to wait that long til the next one? Agony??!!

These are thoughts and feeling I experience when reading this author's books. This is a very fast read with lots and lots of twists and turns.. I can't get this story out my head. Loved it and slowly dying with anticipation for the next book in this series!

It’s only the end of the world at stake ...

Nathan’s job for the past three thousand years has been to clean up supernatural messes. Jaded, ruthlessly effective and selfless, he’s seen it all and can handle anything - demons, homicidal angels, even bad bosses.

His latest challenge: A creature named Shadowman is seeking out the three keys it believes will open portals between earth and hell. Nathan must eliminate the human host guiding Shadowman to the keys. Except Nathan isn't expecting the woman anchoring Shadowman to the human world to be beautiful, witty, innocent and completely unaware of the creature manipulating her. Worse, she makes him feel alive for the first time in his long existence, and he haphazardly discovers she's meant to become the love of his life.

Life becomes more complicated when Nathan helps rescue one of the key holders, a deaf girl charged with protecting the secret of who Shadowman really is: the first of four demons headed to the human world, intent on bringing about the Apocalypse. Marta Cox says

This is the first in a series that features angels who have been incarnated as humans and the journey they take in our mortal world. In this tale we learn all about the angels and how difficult their new lives as humans are. Still too pure to cope with humanity and all it entails when first reborn they have to rely heavily on spirit guides to lead them. This story begins with a bang and doesn't let up as their tangled world is opened up and more is revealed.

Amira, a deaf girl is a first generation angel made human and holds an important role in saving the earth from demons; in particular Death, War, Pestilence and Famine. Her own spirit guide sacrifices himself trying to protect her and she hides in an asylum but fate intervenes and she meets Kaylee who's existence is tied to Shadowman, a demon determined to open a portal to Hell that will allow Archdemons access to earth. Nathan is the biggest and baddest of all the spirit guides and has been tasked with finding Amira and protecting her from harm. He's been alive for more than three thousand years and has seen it all but just can't seem to understand why he feels such a connection to Kaylee who's just a human and surely is in the wrong place at the wrong time?

Life gets more complicated when Amira's secret is revealed and it's vital that she and her fellow key holders remain hidden. Kaylee's Shadowman will do all he can to protect her as if she dies he cannot free his fellow demons but it's clear to all that her death would help save the world as we know it. Nathan has obligations but his own feelings for Kaylee are hard to ignore. Danger lurks as both satanists and rogue spirit guides are also hunting for them. It soon becomes clear that the only way to stop the impending apocalypse is to kill Kaylee but can Nathan sacrifice the woman that he's learning to love?

Interesting ideas abound here. The concept of angels made human and needing supernatural guides was a new one for me and a little hard to get used to at first. This is quite a complicated read initially and there's lots going on. The two central characters definitely set the page alight and the authors description of Nathans physical attributes is hilarious! Loving the backstory and the way Nathan's human life encroaches on his new immortal one. The character Kaylee is funny as she's obsessed with horror movies and I hope we learn more about her background in further books. As for Amira's part in this I thought it was a wonderful idea to use a deaf girl as a lead as not enough books feature this aspect of humanity. She's a brave soul, full of compassion and I'm really looking forward to seeing her human journey continue in the next book (See No). Interesting supporting characters abound in this book from world weary immortals to surprisingly polite assassins. This is a series that can only get better and is well worth a read and I can't wait to read more.

If you have never read a Lizzy Ford book, you'll be surprised and frankly amazed to learn that she has a knack for writing great stories across a broad spectrum of topics from witchcraft to voodoo, angels to Gods, demons to aliens, etc. What is truly amazing is the timing...Lizzy is generally writing more than one book at a time and keeping those stories straight in her head is mind boggling given how fast she cranks these out. This book, and series, focuses on angels. Both, reincarnated and fallen angels. Although the concept isn't all-together new, the story line does have some unique aspects to it and you'll either love or hate the characters.

I will admit that this one took me a little time to get into. There were a few stories going on throughout the book. In addition to the main characters - Kaylee and Nathan - there was also Amira and Troy, Zyra, Maddy, Shadowman...yep, there is a story there and we'll hopefully learn more in the next book. To give a little background, reincarnated angels are angels who made the decision to be born as a human...to give up being an angel to experience life rather than watch over humans. There is a hierarchy to angels both on earth as well as in heaven. Humans have guardian angels who watch over them; reincarnated angels have guides. They are not angels, but humans who are recruited by other guides and are gifted with abilities to help them in their new role. Their role is to help the reincarnated angel adjust to life as a mortal. Fallen angels are those who decide that they no longer want to protect their charges, but instead become "demons".

Amira is a newly reincarnated angel (RA). Unlike other gen ones (or new RA), she has been tasked with protecting a handful of special moonstones. These stones in the wrong hands can lead to chaos via the release of arch-demons. Shadowman is hunting Amira. Nathan is a guide who doesn't exactly follow the preordained rules of a guide, but still manages to get the job done where others fail. He is recruited by Maddy, another guide to hunt down Shadowman's anchor in order to kill him. Unfortunately, his anchor is Kaylee...someone else who is special in the grand scheme of things and in addition, someone he is drawn to.

There are some twists and turns throughout this book. Once you become familiar with the characters, you get drawn into the interactions between them. Their struggles to trust, in Kaylee's case, to believe what she has been involuntarily thrust into. Troy is lost, Nathan is a commitment-phobe who is determined to not become emotionally involved with any woman, Zyra is playing at something that I just have not figured out yet, and there is something about Shadowman that Amira has yet to reveal...secrets, lots of secrets and you'll learn some while being teased about others. In typical Lizzy fashion, you'll be salivating for the next book to find out what happens next so stay tuned.

Another book that deserves more then 5 stars. I loved this book. Another to add to the favorites list. I have never read a book about Angels and demons before so I was very interested to see how Lizzy Ford would play this one. I have to say it was amazing and I have the urge to read it again and again.

Nathan was amazing. Can we say another hot alpha man to add to Lizzy Ford's growing list of amazing men. I loved his attitude. Loved the way he thought and how he had a no nonsense way. Everything about Nathan to me ROCKED.. Nathan did his job like no other Guardians. He did what was needed to be done to get things where it needed to be. He didn't care about rules and in the end every reincarnated Angel trusted him and went to him when they needed help. Loved naked reiki. ;)

Kaylee was a sweet girl that got thrown in the middle of everything and not by choice. She had no clue as to what was really going on in life until Nathan came around. She hated her boss and really hated her job. Her life went to hell when everything started coming out about the shadow that followed her everywhere. Slowly learning all that was really going on in her life was scary for her but she never gave up.

Amira is a deaf girl that is responsible of protecting one of the most important things in the world. She is a sweet reincarnated Angel who has a little extra powers then the other reincarnated Angels. You can't help but to fall in love with her.

Troy... Another one like Nathan. You get a glimpse of Troy in this story and even thought its not a whole lot you can't help but to fall in love with him and crave more.

Now on to my favorite. Yes I know this is crazy. Shadowman. Oh how I love Shadowman. He is the shadow that follows Kaylee around. And even though I should really dislike him. Hate him even. I can't help but to love him. Call me crazy.

This is a must read. If you love Lizzy Ford books then you already know this. If you have never picked up a Lizzy Ford book then I suggest you head on over and snatch this one up. Amazing. I don't think I can say that enough about this book.

I got this book through Netgalley for Free in Exchange of an honest review.

have to admit, I picked up this book on the whim from Netgalley because I could read it now and I was starving for a paranormal. I was actually pleasantly surprised with this one. I have not read anything by Lizzy Ford before, but I have heard great things about her. I walked away with a knowledge of a new authors, and a brand new series to follow!

The world is in trouble. A creature that is known as the Shadowman is on the loose and is looking for the three keys that would open up the portal between earth and hell and unleash the Archdemons of the apocalypse. Nathan's job for the past thousands of years is to clean up supernatural messes, unfortunately this one is the biggest challenge of his life. In order to defeat Shadowman he must kill its host, who happens to be a beautiful and innocent woman who is completely unaware of the fact that Shadowman is actually real and not a figment of her stressed out life.

What I really liked about this book...

The characters. I really liked the characters. Amira, Nathan, Kaylee, and Troy. They really gave life to the book and it started to take on the shape of its own. I liked Nathan, and I liked the fact that he seemed so real. Before meeting Kaylee, he was basically a man whore. Living his life the way he wanted and doing his job, in the most effective way he seemed fit. In a way his actions are questioned by others, but they seemed to be doing the job and that makes him one of the best. His a man whore who wants no attachment and the struggle continues when he meets Kaylee and all the way through the book. Especially when he finds out how she is really connected to him. I was glad when that posed a challenge, because it defied his character. Troy and Amira are my other two favorites. It's so cute to watch him protect a girl who is deaf and has a lot hanging on her shoulders. Amira carries these stones that play a major part of the book and the Shadowman wants them.

The theme of the book was kind of different for me. I have to admit, I have never read a book about reincarnated angels. So that being said, it's probably not for you if you have a problem with that. Because the major characters are reincarnated angels, and the whole theme is a bit heaven versus hell basically, but on earth. I enjoyed it and found it much more refreshing over my last few paranormal reads.

I don't think there was ever a dull moment. The book moved at a good pace and the entire time kept me hooked and on the edge of the seat. I found myself wanting answers, and what Nathan was going to do about this whole situation. Especially since he had to kill Kaylee in order to get rid of Shadowman and it was for the greater good and his inner battle did not disappoint. I did have a hard time putting this one down, wanting to know how it all turned out in the end, so I devoured this book quickly.

There was obviously romance, which I enjoyed. Especially the connection some of these characters shared. It will be interesting how it all plays out in the end. I love the fire between Nathan and Kaylee but there is also a great big wall between them. Especially the fact that Nathan needs to kill her.

The writing. Lizzy Ford really knows how to tell the story and she started this series already on the high note. Sure there was somethings that left me frustrated and hanging with questions – but I think she did a wonderful job. She knows how to pull the reader in, and the only downside is that it's a new series and I have to wait for book 2!

Not so much...

Zyra ugh.. Not sure there is much to say here. I didn't really like her. Her character makes me mad. She has special attachments to Nathan and I won't go into what it is, or else it's a spoiler but she irks me. She is the leader of the group 3G, which is a group of rebel I guess after the greater good and they are also after Kaylee. Her role in this book is kept kind of quiet, but it seems like it's going to play a big one in the end. The ending.. okay.. to be fair it's only because it left me wanting more. I wouldn't call it a cliffhanger, but the set up for book two is perfect. A lot of things are going to happen I think and my grabby hands itch to have it now!

The OTL... I won't say what it stands for because it also plays a big part in the book – kinda. It's sweet, I get it...but it's also a bit cheesy. Or it appeared to me anyway. But! It did add to the drama of Kaylee and Nathan so this doesn't bother me as much as it would otherwise I guess.

So in the nutshell, I really enjoyed this series. It does have a naughty rate R 18+ moment near the end of the book, so just beware. It doesn't bother me, but the book is meant for people 18 and older. I cannot wait for the next book in the series to see what happens. I get so excited when I find a new favorite paranormal! Oh and while I wait, I guess I am going to dig into some other Lizzy Ford books I have picked up!

Hear No, Hidden Evil Trilogy #1 by Lizzy Ford

4 stars

Stories with Archangels, Angels, Guardian Angels, Fallen Guardian Angels, Archdemons, Demons, Spirit Guides, can go all wrong or really right. I think this story is going really right, I am intrigued by the characters and the path this story is taking.

Amira, is a 1st gen angel turned human, also a key who will be important in preventing Death, War, Pestilence and Famine from being released from their portals. Her building relationship with Troy has so much potential to be amazing. I suspect theirs will be a bit of a sweet love story as it evolves. I want to see more of Troy and what he is really like when he is not just grieving the loss of his daughter.

Kaylee, an Archangel that doesn't even know she is one, also a key. Her explosive relationship with Nathan sizzles, but I think it could become like dynamite. I can't wait to see how this evolves once they both finally admit to each other how they really feel. Nathan, well, what's not to love about a guy who has so much natural sex appeal that you are just drawn to him. He was so committed to his wife, and let that determine his choices for thousands of years, he is bound to be so committed to Kaylee and to protecting her, that in the end they will be an unshakable couple.

Zyra, wow, really, she never tries to reconnect with her husband for thousands of years, how can she really still love him? She is a lying, conniving, evil woman. Great evil character, but can't stand her.

Eddie, can a person who has gone evil come back? I sure hope so, because he seems like his sense of right and wrong isn't completely compromised. I want to see more from him, he seems to have a definite soft spot for Kaylee.

Maggie seems to be right on the edge of going from good to evil, I hope she finds her own OTL later and that there will be more story for her in the next books.

Aimeekay says

First let me be clear...I am a major Lizzy Ford fan! Second even being a massive fan I have put off reading this one...I can't really give an explanation for that. I mean I love her other series, but this one I just wasn't sure about. Gosh I'm kicking myself now!

Hear No Evil is an amazingly written story. Even though the ending makes it clear it's not a stand alone novel, the book just draws you in and doesn't let go.

Let's start with the world Ford has created.

I have to say it's quite impressive all the different worlds she has built and how she makes each one distinct. In Hear No Evil she's brought quite an interesting spin to the world of good and evil. Her angels and demons aren't monochromatic. There aren't definite lines to show who's on which side. Also the way the angels are reincarnated and experience life on earth. Throughout the story Ford gives just enough of a look into her world to tantalize the reader. I personally can't wait to continue reading the rest of the series to learn more about it.

As for her characters...

Ford has a way of creating characters that are easy to fall in love with. Not just her leading ladies and men, but the supporting players as well. Even some of the bad guys have a way of causing you to want to root for them. I have to say one of my favorite characters was Eddy, who is definitely not a good guy. lol. But he is so sweet in his own way! I can't wait to see where his story goes.

Also Ford's main character in Hear No Evil is deaf. Ford is able to work her disability into the story without making the story about her disability, but it isn't. Yes, Amira's disability is an important part of the story. If she could hear she would be able to figure out what the stones are saying to her and she wouldn't need to find the rest of the girls. But throughout the story it's easy to forget that she's deaf. Ford is able to make it her weakness, while at the same time making it a strength.

I highly recommend anything written by Lizzy Ford. She creates beautiful worlds and addicting characters. But I seriously suggest picking up Hear No Evil. It's main character proves that you don't need physical perfection to be a heroine and the things that people with disabilities are able to do.

The world is one of her best creations. The story...yes it ends on a cliffie, but it's one that makes you want to keep reading. I'm giving this one 5 outta 5 stars an I can't wait to see where this series goes.

I received a copy of this book from the author in exchange for a fair and honest review. All opinions expressed in this review are my own.
