NOT A BOOK: Saving Sean NOT A BOOK

[Siren Publishing: The Lynn Hagen ManLove Collection: Erotic Alternative Paranormal Romance, M/M, vampires, HEA]

In the dark of night, a war escalates within the hidden world of vampires. Haunted by a violent past, Isla Domenici joins the Watchers—a team of preternatural creatures who pursue the Vampire Hunters. Nothing will stop Isla from destroying the Hunters who kill his brethren. That is, until he encounters a human who ignites a passion that transcends the boundaries of life itself. But now an ancient evil has escaped the underworld, and a darkness is on the rise.

Born and raised in a life of privilege, Sean Sloane holds a dark secret. As much as he tries to hide who and what he is, there are some who possess that knowledge and hunt him relentlessly. Fleeing those who want to kill him, Sean stumbles into the Manacle. It's a dark and mysterious world he never knew existed—a world where he discovers a black-haired stranger who tempts his very soul.

There's something about Sean that intrigues Isla. He can't quite put his finger on it. But he doesn't have time for the human. Isla's life is already too complicated. Yet, when Sean returns, Isla can't resist the man. He should have walked away. Isla knows this—especially when an ancient evil escapes the underworld and goes after Isla, which in turn pulls Sean into a world he was never meant to be in. When Sean teeters on the brink of death, it's up to Isla to either save the man or end his life.

Jenni Lea says

Plagiarism at its worst: <http://welcome.raythereign.com/plagia...>

Katey Newman says

I would give this 0 stars if it were possible. This book has sections plagiarized word for word from Sanctuary, a story written by Raythe Reign. DO NOT BUY THIS AND SUPPORT A RIP-OFF! If you want to support the ORIGINAL author of this work, then please visit <http://raythereign.com/> and read her stories there.

Shannon says

Boooo! Stolen from a Raythe Reign book "Sanctuary". That's just WRONG!!

Sabrina K. Mercury says

Readers beware, this story is plagiarized from RaytheReign.com. Please don't buy this book.

Heather S says

I totally agree that stealing people's work and passing it off as your own is very wrong. Yeah, she definitely shouldn't have done it but from all the quoted lines all she did was rip off some random lines from sex scenes. It's not like she stole the whole work or even big pieces of the others work and passed it off as her own. Honestly, after reading over 300 books a year with sex scenes rarely are they distinguishable from each other as anything special.

Paisley says

Anyone who reads my reviews knows that I am a huge fan of Lynn Hagen.

I have bought most of her books - I am so disappointed to hear the allegations of plagiarism. Is this what happens when authors are churning out 100's of books and series and they run out of ideas and feel pressure to keep going? There is no excuse for stealing - it is always wrong.

Riayl says

This blurb is confused, it might need to invest in some therapy for its issues...

Much more importantly, plagiarism is nasty: <https://www.goodreads.com/topic/show/...>

Ericka Walden says

I can not, and will not continue to support this person. ... I'm saddened that we all as avid readers and supporters of this genre was duped by a person we trusted to create and publish her OWN stories/work.

Audi says

This author needs to be blacklisted. She has been caught redhanded plagiarizing another (and better) author's work. Her book "Saving Sean" is directly copy/pasted from Raythe Reign's book "Sanctuary." How much more of her "work" is copy/pasted? Seriously? She needs to find a new career path. She is the nightmare of all true writers who struggle to ACTUALLY write stories people will want to read. I will NEVER purchase anything from her or her publisher Siren, which thus far refuses to drop her from their company or repay the REAL author.

Candice says

[Why wasn't there a pull? Is Sean supposed to be more than human or something? So I take it Panahasi reversed the whole "no mates for Watchers" thing? (hide spoiler)]

CDM says

The author is a thief, don't buy her books! She's stealing from Raythe Reign. Boo! è.é

Zwankima says

The majority of this book has been plagiarized. This book is basically The Sanctuary written by One of my favorite Authors.

WTF???????

Cut this whole damn thing out of the blurb. Sean's been struggling for years with his mother to make ends meet. Dark Secret? If there is, you won't find out by the end of the book. Being hunted? By what?

"Isla knows this—especially when an ancient evil escapes the underworld and goes after Isla, which in turn pulls Sean into a world he was never meant to be in. When Sean teeters on the brink of death, it's up to Isla to either save the man or end his life."

This sounds misleading to me. Ancient evil didn't specifically go after Isla, just wrong place wrong time along with Sean. Brink of death? Really.. what was the point of that? Sean is a mate so of course he's not going to die.. that's all I'm gonna say, no details.

Overall not too bad. Some hunter action pops up and Joe Hepner learns a new fact. Certainly some interesting directions can pop up...

Oh and WHY couldn't Isla tell Sean was his mate??

Ije the Devourer of Books says

Oh dear. I did enjoy this story and I really enjoy this series. I originally gave this book four stars only to find out that the author plagiarised parts of this book. What a pity. :(

Alice Montrose says

Plagiarism is not fun. :(

I am certain Raythe Reign was not pleased... how much content did Lynn "borrow" in order to make money off other people's writing?
