Her father is a hero, a legend, the man who changed the history of the galaxy. The Man Who Never Missed--a man she never met. The Confederation defeated, Emile Khadaji disappeared, and now she must find him.

Her mother is a pawn in a dead man's game, bait in a trap to lure her father out of hiding. Marcus Jefferson Wall died on the day the revolution was won, but technology has given him a terrifying new way for the hand of vengeance to stretch beyond the grave.

She is the Matador's secret weapon, an Albino Exotic bred for her sensuous beauty--but trained in the deadly arts. She is ... THE ALBINO KNIFE

Eric Moreno says

I loved this one, great to see the old cast back together for more hijinks. Not the biggest fan of Juete, so I wasn't super invested in the story but I did enjoy Veate being introduced to the gang and the reunion smackdown.

Jim Heivilin says

Really over?

What happened after the Confed fell? What are all our heroes up to? What does the galaxy have in store for them?

Find out. A good read. :)

Bryan457 says

A plot to destroy the new Republic and wreak vengeance on her father brings Emile's daughter, the albino knife, into the picture. Her mother, Juete, has been kidnapped, and attacks are made on the new president, Sleel, Bork, Dirisha and Geneva.
